

For Heart, Health and Happiness

Vision

To fight for cardiovascular health and human welfare

Mission

With a spirit of integrity and fraternity, the Japanese Circulation Society promotes holistic medicine and advanced research for health and welfare of human beings. We develop human resources who will inherit this mission, and in collaboration with international communities, will pursue the sustainable development of the society.

Values

We create medicine, human resources, and society for human welfare.

Creation of medicine

Practice of advanced medicine for the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of diseases

Promotion of innovative research in basic science, clinical science, and translational research

Extension of a healthy life expectancy and improvement in quality of life by development of cardiovascular medicine

Creation of human resources

Nurturing health professionals who provide advanced and holistic medical care

Personnel development of medical professionals and educators with scientific spirit of inquiry

Fostering medical professionals with international- and cooperative-mindedness

Creation of society

Creating a society where every person has a happy life regardless of whether or not they have cardiovascular disease

Securing society by providing flexible and sustainable health care delivery

Growing society by collaboration with international society

Guiding Principles

With integrity, we accomplish our mission to ensure equality, equity, and transparency

With humanity, we create a wellbeing society by collaborating with people

With respect for diversity, we handle various changes in society with flexibility
